SIEGEL TO BE PARTNER OF LIPTON.

They Will Open a Great Department Store in London Next Winter.

LIKE SIEGEL & COOPER'S.

Mr. Siegel Has Sold His Interest in the Big New York Store to Mr. Greenhut.

Mr. Henry Siegel, for many years the senior member of the Siegel-Cooper Company, contemplates establishing in London a great modern American department store next winter.

It is said that he will have associated with him Sir Thomas Lipton, at present engaged at Sandy Hook in a "cup-lifting" enterprise.

The plan for a London store has been under consideration by Mr. Siegel for some time, but until he sold his stock in the Sixth Avenue establishment here to B. J. Greenhut, youngest member of the firm, he could not find time for the London enterprise.

Now that he has transferred his interests here he has again taken up the proposition heretofore only tentatively discussed, and it was said to-day that very soon the official announcement would be made.

Mr. Siegel was the guest of Sir Thomas Lipton yesterday on the steam yacht Erin, while the Shamrock and the Columbia were trying to race, and it is positively asserted that the two will be business partners in the London venture.

B. J. Greenhut, who on Tuesday concluded the deal with Mr. Siegel, whereby he secured the stock held by the latter, thereby acquiring control of the concern, said to-day:

"While Mr. Siegel was at the head of the Siegel-Cooper Company he didn't have time to take up the question of establishing a London house, although on several occasions he talked the matter over with London business men, including Sir Thomas Lipton.

"Now, that he has decided to retire from here he will have time for the other enterprise, and I would not be surprised if he would carry out the plan.

"Up to this time there has been only general discussion, and I am quite certain that no definite conclusion has been reached by Mr. Siegel.

Although Mr. Siegel could not be seen to-day, it was said that Frank H. Cooper, of the firm, would also be associated with him in the London store, and that Sir Thomas Lipton and other well-known business men of London would likewise have an active working interest.

SOLD DETECTIVE CAVE $25 FOR A STOLEN HORSE. "PROTECTION."

THEN PETER KOHLER'S ARREST QUICKLY FOLLOWED.

Many Horses Have Disappeared From the Vicinity of His Home.

Peter Kohler was held in the Adams Street Police Court, Brooklyn, today for examination on a charge of vagrancy. He was arrested by Detectives Miller and Donohue at his home, corner of Parrot Street and Seventh Avenue, Port Hamilton.

According to the police Kohler lives at Ronkonkoma, L. I., during the summer, and at Port Hamilton during the winter, and at Port Hamilton during the remainder of the year. Wherever he lives horses are strangely missing. Farmers of Nassau, Suffolk County, last summer lost sixteen horses. Farmers offered $1,500 for the capture of the thieves.

Recently horses have been missing around Brooklyn, but one of Capt. Waters' detectives did not know of the stolen animals when a few days ago he bought a handsome horse from Kohler for $20.

He happened to tell another detective of his luck, and Kohler's arrest followed.

PAPIST REINACH LOST.

He Is Eighty Years Old and Can't Tell Where He Lives.

A well-dressed man, who gave his name as Papiet Reinach, and said he was eighty years old, last night walked into the Union Market police station and said he was lost.

He said that his home was on some "heights," but could not tell whether it is in this city or in Jersey City. Magistrate Plummer in the Essex Market Court to-day turned the old man over to the Charity Commissioners and ordered a general alarm to be sent out to find his relatives or friends.

SLOT MACHINE OWNER AND A DEPUTY SHERIFF INDICTED.

Brooklyn Man Swore He Gave the Money Every Week to a Patchogue Official.

RIVERHEAD, L. I., Sept. 27.—A raid that was made about a month ago in Patchogue and the vicinity, on nickel-in-the-slot machines, has resulted in a charge of accepting bribes being brought against a Deputy Sheriff and has also led to the indictment of the owner of the machines for bribery.

The proprietor of the machines is William Duge, of Brooklyn, who is said to have rented them to various saloon and hotel keepers in and about Patchogue.

After a number of machines had been seized, Duge went voluntarily before Justice Smith W. Conklin, of Patchogue, and testified that he had been paying Deputy Sheriff Edward W. Dooley $25 a week for protection, so that the persons hiring the machines would not be interfered with.

On the strength of this evidence, Duge was arrested and held for the Grand Jury on a charge of accepting bribes.

When the Grand Jury met here on Tuesday the District Attorney had Justice Conklin appear before it and give testimony as to the statement that had been made to him by Duge.

This resulted in an indictment for bribery being found against Duge, and the Grand Jury came into court especially to present it.

SUICIDE IN CLUB-HOUSE.

Julius Zaralle, Cook of Atlantic Yacht Club, Cuts His Throat.

Julius Zaralle, a French cook, forty-four years old, employed in the Atlantic Yacht Club at Sea Gate, Coney Island, was found dead in bed at the club-house to-day with his throat cut.

He was last seen alive yesterday morning, and it is supposed that he cut his throat with a razor some time during the night. No one at the club knew of any reason why the man should take his life. His brother, Alexander, is employed at the Majestic Hotel, this city.

FATES HELP A MURDERER.

THREE YEARS A FUGITIVE, HIS TRIAL TWICE POSTPONED.

Bartholomew Powers Killed His Wife's Father During a Quarrel.

Fate seems to be playing an important part in preventing Bartholomew Powers from being tried for his life.

For nearly three years after he took the life of his father-in-law, John Dempsey, at 35 East Twenty-sixth Street, the police failed to get a trace of the young man.

Finally he was arrested, in Rochester, on May 15 last and brought to the Tombs.

Assistant District Attorney James J. Walsh was assigned to prosecute Powers. The case came before Justice Foster in Part I, General Sessions, about two weeks ago.
